

William L. Myers, CPA, CMA

Senior Partner, Co-founder

William L. Myers, CPA, CMA is a co-founder of RWH Myers. He has represented major corporations around the world in the analysis and presentation of complex loss of earnings claims and is RWH Myers' key resource for complex loss claims.

Experience

Bill Myers has more than 30 years of forensic accounting and investigative experience, representing companies across a wide range of industries, including energy and petrochemical, forest products, pharmaceutical, manufacturing, transportation, technology, hospitality, health care, packaging, distribution, and retail.

Over his career, he has prepared more than 500 property and time element claims and been directly involved in the calculation and recovery of billions of dollars in insured losses. His work has ranged worldwide, including claims preparation in more than 20 nations.

In 1983, he co-founded Dempsey, Myers & Company. Prior to that, he spent seven years with firms auditing insurance claims including Johnson, Atwater & Company, Campos & Stratis, and Daniel R. Grady & Company.

Presently he is a key resource for complex business interruption losses and training throughout the company.
